INNERHARBOR PROSPECT IS IRON WORKS

City Officials and Realty Company are Awaiting Result of Manufacturing Company Visit to Chicago.

Reclamation Project Is Being Held Up Pending Settlement of Manufacturing Concerns Negotiations.

Negotiations for the location of the big eastern iron manufacturing company on the 40 acre tract o the Bay counties land company near the Ellis Landing company's properties on the Richmond Inner Harbor are at a standstill according to statements of city officials last night.

Mayor Garrard stated that the Bay Counties Land company from whom the land is to be secured and the members of the city council are awaiting word from Mr. Mitchell, who in company with Senator J. C. Owens an dother representatives of the company inspected the local site, and who left for Chicago where it was announced he would take up the matter with the financial board of the concern.

The city officials and the officials of the Bay Counties Land company are keeping the nature of the enterprise a well guarded secret. The name of the representative who viewed the local, Mr. Mitchell, and the fact that the concern is in some way connected with the iron industry was revealed last night. No other facts have been disclosed it being deemed wiser to maintain a strict silence lest other cities about the bay region be "tipped off" to the big deal and spoil things.

Mayor Garrard stated further that the city will not proceed with the proposed reclamation project, consisting of bulkheading a large portion of the tidelands in the district affected and the dredging of the channel i nthat vicinity, until it is definitely settled whether the company is to locate on the site.

LABOR BACKS BURNETT BILL

Secretary Washburn of Carpenters Union Sends Communications to Senators Phelan and Works Endorsing Measure.

The following self-explanatory communication has been received by C. F. Washburn, secretary of the local carpenters' Union and an active member of the Building Trades Council. Acting in accordance with its suggestions, Mr. Washburn has forwarded letters to Senator James D. Phelan and John D. Works. It is felt that individual communications will bear far more weight with the congressmen than will resolutions or endorsements from even the large labor organizations. Laboring men should follow Mr. Washburn's example and get behind this measure so vital to the welfare of every working man.

Washington D. C.
February 10, 1916.

My Dear Secretary:

The Burnett immigration bill has been favorably reported by the House Committee on Immigration, and it will be acted upon by the House of Representatives and the Senate of the United States in the very near future.

This legislation is intended to restrict immigration that is being used by the steel trust ,coal trust, mine barons, the packing industry and ther employers of cheap labor to prevent the organization of their employes so that they can keep wages down.

The American Federation of Labor, through its conventions, has repeatedly declared for this legislation, and has instructed its officers to persist in the effort to secure the enactment of the Burnett bill. A change of four votes would have passed the Burnett bil lover the President's veto at the last session of Congress.

Every power and influence known to big business opposes the Burnett bill, because restriction ofimmigration means organization of thei remployes, followed by an increase in wages and an eight-hour day.

To offset this influence trade unionists must promptly notify their Senators and Congressmen in Washington that unrestricted immigration makes possible two men for every job and that two men for every job is a menace to American living standards.

Do not wait for your union meeting, but secure as many letters as is possible from individual members and other citizens to your two Senators and your Congressman. Urge your two eSnators and Congressman to vote for the Burnett immigration bill, and when the bill is passed to vote to pass it over the President's veto, if he should again veto it.

If your representatives voted for thi slegislation last Congress, let them know that trade unionists are more insistent than ever to have this legislation enacted.

DEMAND TARIFF COMMISSION

By LUKE GRANT

With one voice the labor unions of the country are demanding the enactment by congress of a law creating a permanent non-partisan tarriff commision. Taking their cue from the action of the San Francisco convention of the American Federation of Labor, the unions are adopting resolutions and sending letters to congressman.

In Chicago, especially the unions have been active. The Chicago Federation of labor, The Federation of Musicians, the cigarmakers, carpenters, street car men and other unions have written to Senators and Congressmen. What have the unions done in your locality? You believe in the idea of taking the tariff out of politics, but are you doing any thing to help the movement along.

Every labor leader of prominence has indorsed the movement to take the tariff out of politics. The advantages are so many that there is no argumen on the other side. But that is no proof that congress will act. Many times organized labor has did not get. Its wishes have been ignored more often than they have been respected. It requires persistent effort to get results.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of labor says: "In my judgement there ought to be something done by which the tariff question can be taken out of politics and adjusted scientifically, and beneficially." Mr. Gompers does not advocate measures that are not for the benefits of the wage-earners of the country tnd there is no man who has had more experience with the evil effects of tarriff-tinkering than has Mr. Gompers.

Frank Duffy, secretary of the United Brotherhood of carpenters and Joiners and vice-president of the American Federation of labor says: "I firmly believe that if the tariff question can be taken out of politics much will have been done for the benefit and advancement of the wage earners of the country."

"If we must have tariff system," says John F. McNamee, editor of the locomotive Firemen and Engineer's magazine, "then it is vastly better that the tariff question be taken out of politics and handled scientifically by a Tariff Commision, than that it should be utilized as a campaign issue and a periodical disturber of busines conditions."

These men and hundred of oth speak with authority and from experience. The tariff question has been a periodical disturber of business. It will continue to be so until it is taken out of politics. No other country in the world makes its tariff policy a political issue. The tariff effects the business life of a country and any legislation on the subject should be the result of the most careful inquiry and serious study. Schedules should not be juggled by politicians for the purpose of furthering party or personal need They should not be the result of political compromises, as they have been in the past and as they will continue to be until the methods of making them are changed.

Congress should create a tarriff Commission with full power of investigation. The commission should be authorized to hear and investigate all complaints and recomend such tariff changes from time to time as may be necessary to put and keep the tariff on a fair and equitable basis. It should have power to work out a scientific tariff system, suited to the needs of the whole country. This country never has had a definite tariff policy and the result has been busines disturbance, uncertainty and loss of employment to wage earners with each national election.

Opposition to a tariff commission is gradually disappearing. Leaders in al the political parties are beginning to feel the weight of public opinion.

President Wilson has admitted a change of mind on the subject and is now advocating the creation of a non--partisan commission to deal with the conditions which inevitably arise after the close of the European war.

Organized labor is a powerful factor in the affairs of the country. Its demands wil receive attention, if they are made known in the proper manner. The time to act is now. Don't put it off and say, "let the other fellow do it." Have your union adopt a resolution favoring a tariff commission and send it to your senators and congressmen. Let them know you are interested and watching developments aat Washington. This is a campaign in which you have interests at stake Show that you are alive to your interests.

War Against Bachelor Is On Women To Exercise Prerogative

By Miss GEESHES OMECHICK

Gather round young ladies and meet Mr. Thomas Mervin Carlson well known and popular local legal luminary; assistant district attorney; member of the Richmond lodge of Elks; Native sons; A. O. O. S.; Teamster's Union and several other things

In presenting the name of Mr. Carlson, I believe that the young women of Richmond have before them an eligible whose qualifications are without peer. Receiving an income adequate to conduct the expenses of a little bungalow or apartment (also the rent of same) Carlson presents an admirable defense against the demon Want.

He is handsome. He is an excellent vocalist. He is a wonderful dancer. He is a remarkable all around athelete.

And he owns an automobile which is not a Ford.

Personally I believe that Thos presents a very desirous catch. He has but one flaw a perest charcter. Oh dear me! Dontcher know girls I was thinking seriously of seeking his hand myself but,—well I have decided otherwise.

The flaw is this: Thomas Marvin eats onions. Of course he can be broken of this habit, and is really worth the time and patience to this. But my time is too valuable so I leave him to the young women of Richmond Are you going to let him slip through your hands Are you going to sit idly by while some Oakland or Martinez maid grabs him? The answer must be in deeds but not words. The marriage license only will prove that you are taking advantage of my suggestions.

Carlson is a brother of Edward Johonnan Carlson, the local feed merchant. His office phone is Richmond 210; home 713.

PERSONAL MENTION

Roy Patterson the famous mixologist at Phil Barry's establishment is a real honest-to-goodness married man. This announcement will probably cause considerable anguish in the hearts of many of the city's belles. However it is only fair to poor near bachelors like Carlton Stetson, James Stout, James Ford, et at.

The lass who grabs James Antonio McVittie, Richmond's popular and handsome city auditor will be in a position to give the merry ha ha to her rivals. James so far has withstood the attacks of the feminine sex with great diligence. This is leap year, girls remember that. Don't let him boast that he foiled your plans. Go right on his trail, dears. He can be located by telephone at his office in the city hall, Richmond 748.

Among the eligible in this great contest is Mr. George Thomas Griffin, Mr. Griffin, who is considered the fastest and greatest lineotype operator in the world, will be remembered as the Past Master S., of the great secret society A. O. O. S. He recently resigned from that position, being unable to attend to the duties of the office. George is an Elk; is cute; is a wonderful dancer and has a beautiful voice. More relative to this gentleman will be published later.

Mr. Thomas Mervin Carlson, as snapped by a Daily News photographer yesterday afternoon as he galloped down Macdonald avenue.

Everyone knows Johnny Peres the active little tobacco merchant of our fair city. I don't know whether Johnny is married, but will be able to give further particulars at a later date. At any rate if Yon has landed in double harness, he is certainly keeping his handsome phiz, which by the way is no reflection on Bill Luce, Jesse Hitchcock, Howard French or other married men.

A young woman who signs the cognomen of Annie in a communication requests information relative to Frederick Simoleon Newsom, the man who made the life of Richmond merchants unbearable. I would suggest that the young woman stand watch at the corner of Sixth street and Macdonald avenue any morning or afternoon. The most effective method of drawing Mr. Newsom's attention is via the lasso the young man being especially shy of young women. Yes, he is married. The event was one of the most important of last season.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE NEWS

THE RICHMOND

Constance Collier, the noted London star, in Oliver Morosco's filmization of "The Tongues of Men," is an attraction at the Richmond Theater today and tomorrow.

The duel of wits between the aristocratisc, high church rector of St. Martins-in-the-Lane and the emotional grand opera diva whose performance in a sensational opera the rector denounces from the pulpit is a shower of flying sparks. The sentimental development with which the duel ends up makes one fairly catch one's breath by its very daring. Constance Collier, a strikingly beautiful woman, appears to fine advantage especially in the stage scenes in the grand opera house, which were taken in one of the largest Pacific coast theaters, by the way. Forrest Stanley, one of the handsomest leading men on the stage, gives a performance as the young rector which makes his recent alliance with motion pictures all the greater a blessing. "The Tongues of Men" is another Oliver Morosco ten-strike.

In addition to this big Morosco production there will be a very interesting series of the Pathe News current events and a very funny comedy entitled "Giving Them Fits."

The dealer who sells a seed name falsity can be determined only by the growth and fruition of the plant is about the lowest dawn swindler that has yet been disclosed.

Italian sciertists claim to have discovered color photography. At intervals for many years the claim has been made that efforts in this direction have succeeded and the Italians will find that all photographers are from Missippi.

The Passadena Star is glad it is here, thus. "Every flooded district in California and Arizona shows grit. It makes everybody proud to live in and be identified with this courageous southwest.
